

Appeals, Gratitude And Pleasure

Christmas In Many Forms

CHRISTMAS of 1964 comes to America in many ways.

It comes in the appeal of a child—

Bobby Panichelle, 5-year-old Philadelphia boy, heeded the plea of his brother, Stephen, 7, to give up his favorite stuffed poodle for a collection for the poor. Bobby agreed, but got in the last word, as shown in this letter Stephen placed with their toys:

"These are my toys and they are old but they are in good condition so I would like you to have these toys and I hope you enjoy them and I hope you have as much fun with them as I did."

"I know your not as forchanit as I am because I will be getting new toys for Christmas I hope..."

"P.S. My little brother said that when you are done with the poodle dog please give it back to him because he loves it."

Christmas comes with happy shoppers; and with the joy an old man found late in life—

James A. Fitton, 32, a pensioner in New Orleans, was orphaned in England and said he was so poor he never got a present as a youngster.

"I never was nappy in my whole life," he said. "Then one day I hit on the Santa Claus idea. I became the happiest man in the world."

That's why Fitton, who has a real beard, walks around town in a ragged Santa Claus suit, to share his joy with children.

Christmas comes in the gratitude of Frank Bolek of Hamtramck, Mich.

Bolek saved for weeks to accumulate $30 for Christmas for his family. He hid the money in the toe of an old shoe. His wife threw it out with rubbish.

Seven Hamtramck garbage collectors sifted through 40,000 pounds of trash before they found the shoe — and the money.

"To them, I can only offer heartfelt thanks and the prayers of myself, my wife and my four children, because we will have a merry Christmas due to their unselfishness," Bolek wrote to the mayor.

Christmas comes in the words of Mary Anne Murray, 11, leaving a Philadelphia hospital:

"I don't care about getting any presents because being home is the greatest gift anybody could receive."

She was badly burned Sept. 20 when she re-entered her blazing home in the mistaken belief that her uncle was still inside. Doctors told her she could leave the hospital Thursday and spend the holidays with him.

Christmas comes with the pleasure Marie Plant Roth of Utica, N.Y., will get from setting the oven controls for the Christmas dinner. She can see the numerals, for the first time.

Her sight so poor as to be officially classed as blind, Mrs. Roth was given vision by a newly developed type of glasses. She viewed her gain as an opportunity to serve: "When I can help myself, I have more time to help someone else."

McConnell To Succeed Gen. LeMay

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force, heading into the new year with bright prospects for a new giant plane of hemisphere-spanning range, will get a new commander Feb. 1.

Emerging from a meeting with President Johnson in Texas Tuesday, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara announced:

—Gen. John P. McConnell, 56, will become the new chief of staff of the Air Force when Gen. Curtis E. LeMay retires Feb. 1. McConnell, now vice chief of staff of the Air Force, is a strategic warfare expert.

—The Air Force proposal for a start on blueprinting a plane so enormous as to dwarf the largest now flying has been approved by McNamara and Johnson. The sky giant would be designed to carry 600 men or 250 tons of cargo great distances.

Funds for beginning development of the C5A will be included in the new military budget. Everything about the big plane is on a grand scale. Just to decide on the exact design, then design it, test it and build some experimental models will cost about $750 million; to build 58 such planes in a production program — which would constitute three squadrons — would cost about $1 billion.

JAYCEE SANTA CLAUS — Teams of Jaycee Santa Clauses and helpers distributed some 545 sacks of Christmas treats Tuesday to elementary students at 11 rural schools in Pettis County and made stops in Sedalia at the Retarded Childrens Center, 1005 East Fifth, and the Children's Therapy Center, Bothwell Hospital. Here a small boy at the

Purposely Missed Building

Three Cubans Are Charged In Bazooka Shot At UN

NEW YORK (AP) — Three Cubans, identified as officials of an anti-Castro exile group, have been charged with taking part in the Dec. 11 bazooka shot at the United Nations building.

They were quoted as saying they purposely missed the 38-story East River skyscraper; that their motive was to take newspaper headlines from Ernesto Guevara, Cuban minister of industry, who was speaking to the U.N. General Assembly at the time.

Guevara is the No. 2 man in the Communist regime of Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

The three Cubans were booked Tuesday night in Queens, from where the rocket was fired.

The missile from the World War II German-made rocket launcher soared over a tugboat and exploded in the river about 100 yards from the U.N. secretariat building on the Manhattan shore. No one was hurt.

Stanley Ross, editor of El Tiempo, a Spanish-language weekly newspaper, said the three men told him before their arrests that they had purchased a deactivated bazooka for $35 from a war surplus store in Manhattan and fashioned a firing device out of an automobile ignition.

Ross said the men told him they could have hit the U.N. headquarters "but purposely didn't."

Ross said his reporters had found out who the perpetrators were and that he had urged the three to surrender. The three were planning to do that when police picked them up, he said.

Ross identified them as members of the Cuban Nationalist Movement, an anti-Castro group headquartered in Miami.

Police said the arrests resulted from painstaking work on their part, including checkups on the sale of bazookas.

There were unconfirmed reports the FBI would make further arrests in connection with the bazooka sale. The FBI declined comment.

The Cubans were booked as Julio Carlos Perez, 31, a Tele-type repairman from the Bronx, and brothers Ignacio Novo, 26, a shoe salesman of Manhattan, and Guillermo Novo, 25, a door-man from North Bergen, N.J.

List Salary Hikes For City Workers

A new ordinance passed Monday night by City Council established new maximum annual salaries for city employees. The measure put the pay raises into effect Nov. 1 and checks to city workers for the last half of December are scheduled to reflect the retroactive increases.

Raises ranged from nothing for some new workers to as high as $40 per month for the head meter clerk in the Parking Department. Rank and file workers in the Sanitation Department received $15 and $20 per month hikes. Police patrolmen and sergeants drew $20 per month extra and members of the Fire Department got $20 hikes.

Salary increases are being derived from the new $1 per month garbage collection fee which went into effect in October. Parking Department increases, however, come from parking meter revenues as do all salaries for that department.

The new salary maximums as listed in the ordinance follow by city department. The second figures after some job classifications indicate car allowances:

SANITATION DEPARTMENT
Sanitation Officer, $5040, car allowance, $960; Plumbing Inspector, $3720, car allowance, $710; Mechanic, $3960; Mechanic Helper No. 1, $3540; Mechanic Helper No. 2, $3420; Disposal Plant Operators, $3720, car allowance, $120; Disposal Plant Assistant, $3420; Drivers, $3420; Helpers No. 1, $3180; Helpers No. 2, $3060; Helpers No. 3, $2640; Utility No. 1, $3420; Operator Landfill, $3540; Collector Landfill, $1200 and car allowance $300. Khanh Outlines Campaign Plans

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—There were indications tonight that South Vietnamese military men were cranking up an anti-American campaign that may even involve street demonstrations against U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor.

Informed sources said Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, commander of the armed forces, already has drawn the outlines of such a campaign before his military council of some 20 high officers.

It was not known whether the civilian premier, Tran Van Huong, would go along, but Khanh had clearly become the strongest man in South Viet Nam for the time being.

Khanh told the nation by radio Tuesday night that no foreign power could impose its policies on his armed forces.

In the speech, Khanh was clearly taking an anti-American tone, with the added assertion his country could go on without American assistance if necessary.

Later, Khanh granted an interview to a correspondent of the New York Herald Tribune, in which he directly attacked Taylor. Khanh was quoted as saying that if Taylor did not act more intelligently Southeast Asia would be lost.

According to other highly informed sources, Khanh told his council of generals that tough pressure on the United States must now be applied, and that this should include anti-American demonstrations if necessary.

In the midst of this, the U.S. State Department said it could not condone "improper interference" in Viet Nam's civilian government.

Disagreements between Taylor and Khanh have flared up from time to time in the past three months. But there were no advance signs of the current explosion, set off Sunday by a military purge of the High National Council. The dispute is at least partly a personality clash between Khanh and Taylor.

A military reorganization of the High National Council might at least partly satisfy the American demand for a return of the government to civilian control.

4,000 Christians Cross Into Jordan

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector (AP) — Four thousand Christians from Israel, most of them Arabs, are crossing into Jordan for Christmas celebrations, an Israeli spokesman said today.

Bethlehem is in Jordan, Israel's Christmas festivities center at Nazareth. About 3,000 Christian pilgrims from abroad are going in the Israeli celebration.

Health Service Says

Flu Epidemic Chance Slight

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Public Health Service predicts the nation will escape any big flu outbreak this winter.

There have been only a few local concentrations of Asian or other types of influenza so far this year. There probably would have been many more if a major epidemic were imminent, the service noted.

The agency again recommended vaccinations, especially for those in "high-risk" groups — pregnant women, the elderly and those with heart trouble or other chronic diseases.

In response to questions, health service officials said signs indicate no widespread epidemic will hit the country, although there is always the possibility of localized outbreaks.

The present situation, they said, bears out forecasts made last summer by an advisory committee to the surgeon general.

In general, those forecasts were that the 1964-65 winter season shapes up as a comparatively light year on flu for two reasons:

1. As regards Asian, or type (Please turn to Page 2, Col. 3)

Pilotless Plane Crashes Into Florida Homes

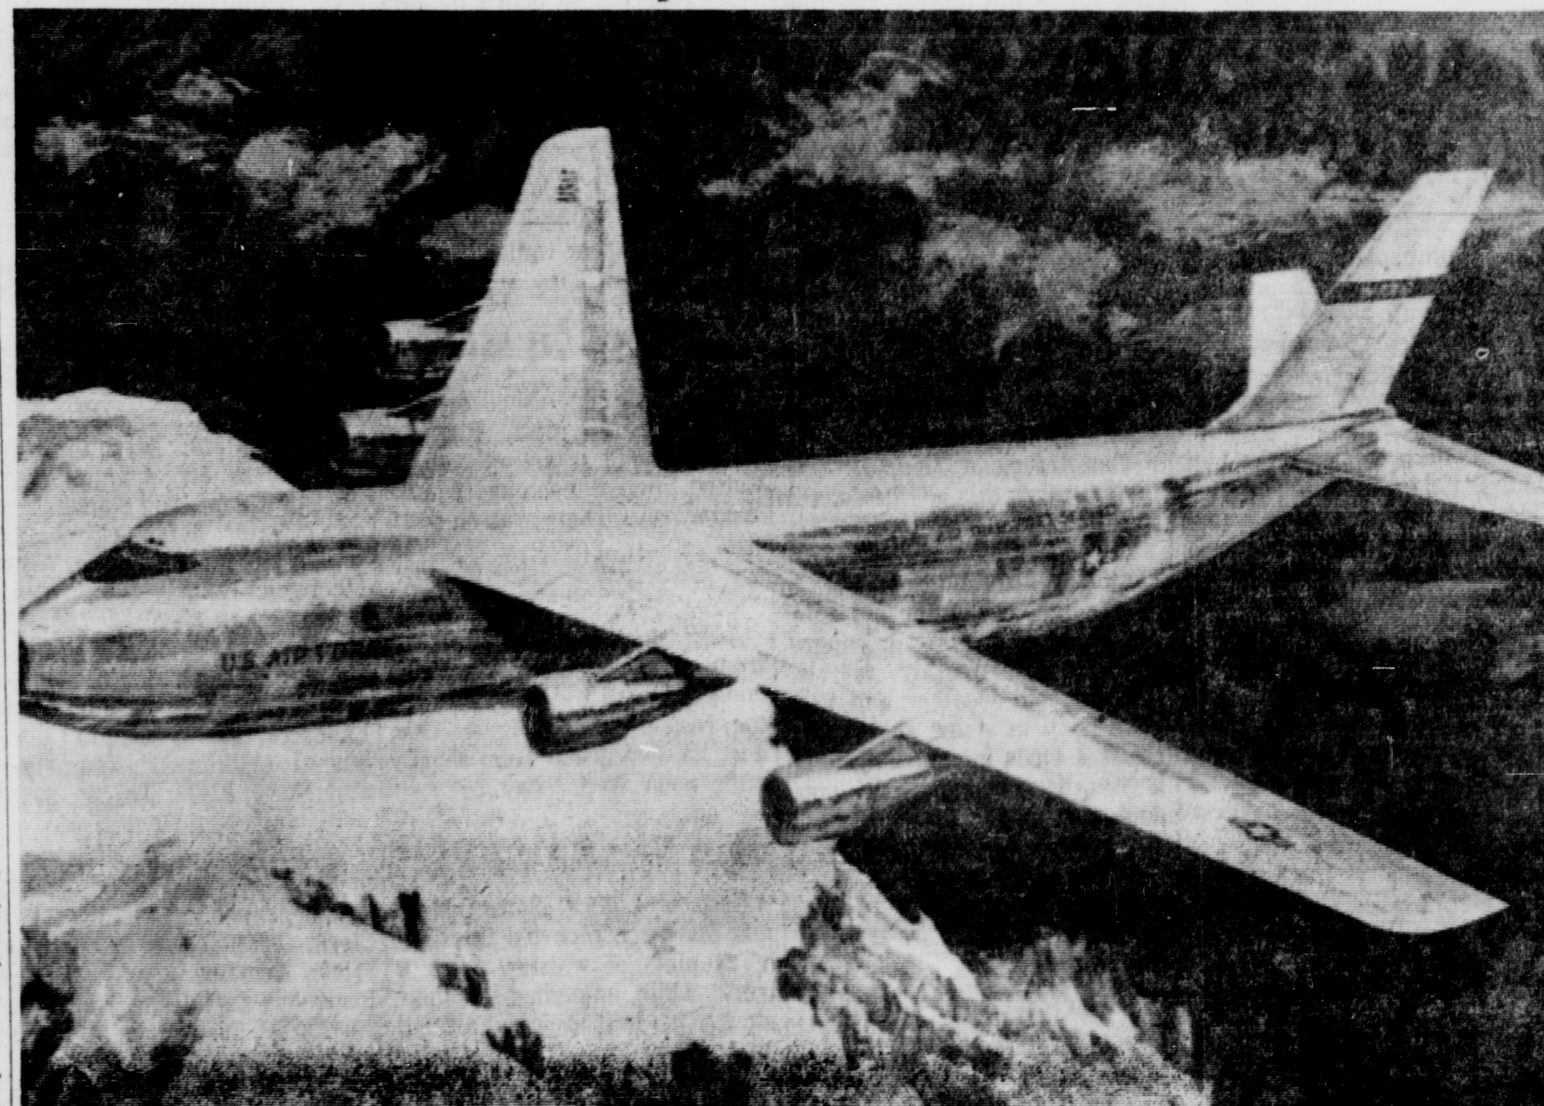

DEBARY, Fla. (AP)—A pilotless Navy plane exploded into a residential area of this retirement community today, demolished one home and damaged several others, and started a raging fire. One man was reported killed.

One of two men in the plane was said to have been killed in a parachute jump from low level. The second man in the plane parachuted into a tree and was reported unhurt.

The explosion of the empty plane, which was believed to have been on a mission from the nearby Sanford Naval Air Station, blasted a deep crater in the ground.

Sen. Everett Dirksen, R-Ill., has a winter home here and was in Debary at the time of the crash, but it occurred some distance from his home.

Funds Okayed for Aerial Giant

JOHNSON CITY, TEXAS—Pres. Johnson has given the go-ahead for $750,000,000 program to develop a gigantic new military transport plane capable of carrying up to 700 troops or 250,000 pounds of cargo. This is an artist's concept of a Boeing heavy logistics type aircraft concept in flight. Boeing recently completed a study under U. S. Air Force contract for a CX-HLS (Cargo Experimental-Heavy Logistics System). The 725,000 pound jet approved by LBJ could also become a civilian transport. Lockheed, Douglas and Boeing all have been working on the military design. (UPI Telephoto)

Plea To Feuding Factions

Displeasure Expressed In Viet Shuffle

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk urged feuding factions in Saigon today to set aside personal considerations and what he called lesser issues in the interest of getting on with the war against Red guerrillas.

Rusk did not name any particular South Vietnamese leader, but his remarks at a news conference came amid strong U.S. displeasure over moves by Saigon generals to purge the civilian leadership.

Rusk also said that lack of a unified civilian government in South Viet Nam would obviously make it more difficult to handle certain types of U.S. aid. But he declined to go into detail on this or the bigger question of what happens to the massive U.S. assistance program if there is no unified government.

On another subject, Rusk said Communist China is attempting to extend its domination into Southeast Asia and the Congo and has made these two areas the greatest danger points to world peace.

He declared Peking's militant approach to world revolution was seeking to upset world order and warned that their appetites and ambitions grow upon feeding.

Asked if he subscribed to the falling domino theory in Southeast Asia — the idea that one toppling government causes another to fall—Rusk said: "This is not dominoes, this is Marxism."

The secretary of state gave full backing to U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor, who has come under attack from South Viet Nam's commander in chief, Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, for opposing Sunday's semi-coup by young generals.

As for Khanh's public criticisms of Taylor, Rusk said some of them might have been made in the heat of the moment. He said he found no widespread anti-American feeling elsewhere in South Viet Nam.

Rusk said it is not up to the United States to insist upon a particular, detailed pattern for South Viet Nam's government.

But it was the military authorities themselves who had earlier indicated they wanted to turn over the governmental duties to civilians and restrict themselves to the military campaign, he said.

Ivanov Free On $100,000 Appeal Bail

NEWARK, N. J. — (AP) — Igor Ivanov, sentenced to 20 years in prison for his part in an espionage conspiracy, was freed today in $100,000 bail pending appeal of his conviction.

The Russian chauffeur, 34, was brought to federal court here from the Hudson County Jail, Jersey City, where he was held following his sentencing last Friday.

Bail of $100,000 had been granted Ivanov last December, a month after his arrest, but was revoked by U.S. Judge Anthony Agelli Friday. The money was posted by the Soviet Embassy. The original bail money was reapplied today.

The bail was set Tuesday by the Third Circuit Court of Appeals in Philadelphia after Ivanov's attorney presented a letter from Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin. The letter guaranteed Ivanov's appearance in court.

Ivanov and John W. Butenko, an American electronics engineer from Orange, were convicted by a federal jury of conspiring to transmit U.S. Air Force secrets to the Soviet Union. Butenko was sentenced to 30 years in prison.

Storm Havoc In Pacific Northwest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Torrential rains, whipped along on gale force winds, continued to sweep across four Pacific Northwest states today, imperiling scores of cities and towns and causing millions of dollars of damage.

Six persons have died and three rescuers were missing in the two-day storm that forced at least 5,000 persons to flee before the raging waters of a dozen flood-swollen mountain rivers.

A helicopter with three Coast Guardsmen aboard was missing after evacuating 10 people off an island in California's Eel River.

Federal, state, and local disaster units worked frantically through the night in 65-mile-an-hour winds to complete evacuation of whole towns as the storm raged. The Weather Bureau predicted no let up today.

Another storm, about 700 miles off the coast, was expected to bring more rain by Christmas, the Weather Bureau forecast.

California's Gov. Edmund G. Brown at midday declared four northwestern counties disaster areas and appealed for federal assistance. Five other hard-hit northern counties sent urgent pleas to the state capitol for relief.

In Oregon, Gov. Mark Hatfield issued the disaster call and placed the National Guard on alert.

Gov. Grant Sawyer called out the Nevada National Guard to help workmen sandbag store-fronts in downtown Reno as the Truckee River's flood waters spilled out of the Sierra into the heart of town.

Idaho's National Guardsmen were put on emergency duty by Gov. Robert E. Smylie, and 50 men were rushed to the beleaguered town of Bancroft in the southeastern part of the state.

Natural disaster seemed the order of the day. San Diego was hit by an earthquake, causing panic in the downtown area and widespread, but minor, damage.

Four drownings were blamed on the storm in Oregon. Dr. Robert Dickson, 60, of Chinook, Mont., drowned when the bridge over Interstate 80N gave way and he was thrown into the John Day River. Edward Kilgore, 48, of Sutherlin, Ore., and Ella Cox, 65, of Roxeberg, Ore. were carried away by the overflow of Calapoia Creek after they fled their stranded car. An unidentified child perished in a car that ran into a washout in a canyon southeast of The Dalles, state police reported.

Most major rivers continued to rise and were over flood stage late Tuesday night. Only Interstate 5 remained open, and highway officials feared it would be two or three days before east-west roads could be opened.

All rail traffic was disrupted. Southern Pacific's line in the Cascade Mountains was blocked by a mudslide; the Union Pacific line was blocked at two points by washouts.

Numerous smaller towns were isolated by blocked roads and severed telephone lines. The $2.4-million John Day bridge, only a year old, was among the many bridges washed out.

Civil defense officials reported thousands left homeless but they had no way of pinpointing how many.

Flu

(Continued from Page One.) A-2 flu — the newest and most feared type in recent years — the nation suffered widespread outbreaks in 1962-1963; and the West Coast and parts of southern Minnesota were hit hard by the same virus last winter. The experts feel the betting averages are against another major outbreak so soon after those.

2. As for influenza "type-B" — another major form — widespread epidemics are relatively rare anyway. The United States was hit by a tough one as recently as 1961-62.

The American Medical Association gives this advice regarding flu:

"Exercise general health precautions. If the flu breaks out in your neighborhood, do not enter any place where crowds congregate. Dress warmly for extremely cold weather and keep your body in shape so you can resist a virus infection. Finally, if you do get sick, call your doctor at once."

Circuit Court

Pettis County has accepted settlement of $500 from the Morrison-Knudsen Construction Co., one of the prime Minuteman missile contractors, for a concrete bridge in the southeastern part of the county which collapsed last year under a gravel truck owned by the firm.

Stipulation for dismissal of the county's damage suit against the company was filed Wednesday in Circuit Court.

The county had claimed the bridge, which spans a branch of Spring Fork Creek four miles southwest of Bahner, was caused to crack, sway and collapse under the pressure of an overloaded gravel truck. Sought in the original petition filed in September, 1963, was a judgment of $2,900 — the actual cost of replacing the bridge.

Commits Murder 4 Days After Prison Release

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A man released Friday from Moberly State prison was charged Tuesday with first degree murder in the fatal stabbing of a 76-year-old widow.

The victim, Mrs. Susie Ogle, suffered two stab wounds of the abdomen.

Kennett Livingston, 32, was named in the warrant after homicide detectives said he orally admitted the slaying.

Assistant Circuit Attorney Brendan Ryan said Livingston admitted attempting to rape Mrs. Ogle.

Livingston, who lived at the same address, ran out of the building and summoned a police officer, telling him to aid a sick woman. The officer found the fully clothed body of Mrs. Ogle in her room.

Homicide detectives said they found a book, in which Mrs. Ogle kept money, in Livingston's room.

Livingston had just served a two-year prison term for assault with intent to kill.

Peacemaking Try With Dockworkers

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson's peacemaker in the contract dispute between Gulf Coast longshoremen and shippers tried today to get both sides around the bargaining table again. He said no immediate results were expected.

Assistant Secretary of Labor James J. Reynolds held separate meetings Tuesday with representatives of the International Longshoremen's Association and the West Gulf Maritime Industry.

Reynolds said he feels that "there is a lot of misunderstanding that can be cleared up," and thus possibly avert a dock strike the length of the Atlantic and Gulf coasts.

While union leaders have approved a proposed new contract with New York shippers, the Gulf Coast ILA — involving ports from Lake Charles, La., to Brownsville, Tex. — is at a stalemate in its negotiations.

Bargaining halted Saturday. Longshoremen have continued work on a day-to-day basis since an 80-day no strike injunction obtained by the federal government expired Sunday.

Should the Gulf dock workers strike, there is a possibility of sympathy strikes which could paralyze shipping on the Eastern seaboard.

The dispute reportedly hinges on the size of work gangs. Houston-Galveston ILA locals have sought a minimum of 18 men to the gang. Presently there is no contract provision for any minimum.

The new agreement reached in New York would permit gradual reduction in the size of work gangs.

There also is an unsettled question of whether any pay increase would be retroactive to Oct. 1, when the old contract ran out.

Reynolds arrived Tuesday and went at once into a closed meeting with ILA officials. He conferred with shippers Tuesday night, again behind closed doors.

He told newsmen he is "no whip cracker" for the administration.

Reynolds came here on orders of Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz after Wirtz talked with Johnson at the President's Texas ranch Monday. Wirtz said the President "was very much concerned about seeing to it" there is a settlement.

Port officials in Galveston and Houston reported longshoremen apparently showed up for work only at their convenience Tuesday. Houston shippers said fewer than half the work gangs ordered to the docks appeared.

Credit Card Not Classed a Security

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — The U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals has taken a swipe at the credit card.

The court at New Orleans said credit cards have value only to the company, as a device for making invoices, and cannot be classed as a security.

The court overthrew the conviction of a Jacksonville man who is serving four years for interstate transportation of a stolen credit card.

Dies After Wreck

STE. GENEVIEVE, Mo. (AP) — A Bonne Terre, Mo., woman died Tuesday night 20 minutes after she was found in her wrecked car near Ste. Genevieve, apparently had over-turned several times.

She was Lena Ada Coursin, 60.

The car, found on Missouri Highway 32 eight miles west of Ste. Genevieve, apparently had over-turned several times.

3.5 Million To Launch 'Early Bird'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Communications Satellite Corp. — Comsat — announced today it will pay the government about $3.5 million to launch its "Early Bird" commercial satellite as soon as possible after March 1.

The contract, signed by Comsat, and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, commits NASA to perform similar launchings at Comsat's option after July 1. Ultimately, the earth will be circled with satellites for a permanent system of telephone, message and television transmission.

The Early Bird will be placed in synchronous orbit — that is, "standing" at 22,300 miles altitude above a fixed spot in the Atlantic — with NASA providing the launch vehicle and services, telemetry and tracking data.

Once successfully in orbit, the satellite will be turned over to Comsat. If tests are successful, commercial service should start about two months after the launching. The target date for permanent, full-scale commercial service is 1967.

The contract calls for Comsat to reimburse NASA for "actual governmental costs incurred for launches, whether or not successful," the corporation said, and the payment per launch "is on the order of $3.5 million."

"NASA will also provide a backup launch in the event 'Early Bird' is unsuccessful," the announcement said.

Technically, three satellites of the high-altitude, synchronous type would suffice for global communications service — one each over the Atlantic, Pacific and Indian oceans. Comsat has indicated it would also need three standby satellites, to be launched in case an orbiting satellite fails.

However, the corporation — manager of the system for communications agencies in 19 countries — also plans to test out a medium-altitude system. This would require more satellites, since each one would "see" a smaller area of the earth.

The front of the Sisemore car was demolished and the car was removed from the scene by a wrecker from the Showcase DX station.

The Sisemore family was enroute to Mr. Sisemore's father's home at the time of the accident. It was reported that his father was seriously ill.

Family Of Five Hurt In Accident

The entire family of Robert D. Sisemore, Sr., 710 East Fourth, was admitted to Bothwell Hospital following an accident near the intersection of 41st and Kentucky at 5 p.m. Tuesday. One son, Robert Dale, Jr., was taken to surgery shortly after his arrival at the hospital.

Shortly before noon Wednesday, a hospital spokesman told The Democrat each of the injured was in satisfactory condition.

Mrs. Lois Sisemore, 29, suffered multiple lacerations of the face and right forearm, a contusion of the chest wall, multiple contusions of the body and a fractured right ankle. She was treated by Dr. Carl Siegel.

Robert Sisemore, Sr., 35, received a laceration to the right eyebrow and a fractured leg. He was treated by Dr. D. R. Edwards.

Nikki Sisemore, 8, received a bruise on the bridge of the nose, contusions of the left lower leg and abrasions of the right chest and lower right leg. She was treated by Dr. Edwards.

Robert Sisemore, Jr., 9, received two severe lacerations to the scalp and a fractured skull. Dr. D. L. Glass performed the operation.

Trooper Richard Joos of the Missouri State Highway Patrol who investigated the accident, related that Sisemore was driving a 1963 Tempest south on Kentucky when a 1963 Dodge station wagon pulled out of a driveway and headed north on Kentucky. Sisemore applied his brakes and swerved to the left sheering a mail box and striking a tree. The station wagon was driven by Doris J. Lehmer, 40, Route 3.

The front of the Sisemore car was demolished and the car was removed from the scene by a wrecker from the Showcase DX station.

The Sisemore family was enroute to Mr. Sisemore's father's home at the time of the accident. It was reported that his father was seriously ill.

Ann Landers Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: I am writing this letter in the hope that it will be read by my neighbor, the mother of a two-year-old child.

The little girl weighs 60 pounds and wears size 14 panties. This summer that child, in her red striped bathing suit, looked like a beach ball with legs.

I've watched the mother feed her and the mound of potatoes on the girl's plate looks like Mt. Wilson. When she stops eating, the mother shovels in more food.

This is an unhappy youngster if I ever saw one. She cries over nothing and rarely smiles. She was a very slow walker—probably because she couldn't drag her fat bottom around.

I've hinted that the youngster should be taken to a doctor for a check-up but the mother laughs and says, "Lord love her, she is just chubby."

Will you comment, please?—CONCERNED.

Dear Concerned: In the old days a fat child was thought to be a healthy child. We know now that this is not necessarily true.

Review Case Of Recovery For Youth

The case history of a 19-year old youth who has been rehabilitated by the Children's Therapy Center was described by members of the Center staff to Rotarians and their guests at the regular meeting of the Sedalia Rotary Club on Monday noon at Hotel Bothwell.

J. D. Walker, director of the Center, opened the program by giving the case background of the young university student, who he stated was severely injured in a bad automobile accident and underwent brain surgery at Kansas University Medical Center, and after treatment there was referred to Bothwell Hospital, since Sedalia was his home. The patient, according to Walker, had a severe motor involvement to his right side, was unable to speak, to use his right hand, or to walk, lacked muscular coordination. In addition he maintained a hostile attitude toward those concerned with his rehabilitation.

The treatment received by the young man from Sept. 21 until he was able to speak in a near normal manner, to drive a car, to again use his right hand, and to talk and move about in a normal manner, were described by Miss Susan Slanker, speech therapist, Miss LaVerne McNabb, physical therapist, and Miss Janet Vavra, occupation therapist. According to Miss Vavra, the young patient was recently released by the Center to the State Rehabilitation Agency for further training to achieve his goal of a useful, productive member of society.

The program was arranged by Elmer McClung, December program chairman, who introduced Walker.

Omer West, president, read Christmas greeting letters received by the club from Miss Victoria Barrington, of Great Britain, and Miss Kristen Scopen, of Norway, who visited in Sedalia during the past year under Sedalia Rotary Club sponsorship. On behalf of the club, he also presented Christmas gifts to Bothwell waitresses who serve luncheon to Rotary members each week.

Guests presented by P. E. Milster were: The Rev. William Pinkerton, Rotarian from Marshall, Mo.; William Holton and Tom Aycock, guests of Charles Hofheins; Charles Case, guest of his father Aubrey Case; The Rev. William Boatman, guest of Bill Finley; and student guests Lyle Aggeler, Charles Meyer, David Daugherty and Ernie Hiatt.

The Rev. J. R. Wallace gave the invocation and Charles Hofheins led in group singing.

Tanglenook Neighbors Hold Christmas Party

A Christmas party was held Dec. 15 by Tanglenook Neighbors at the home of Mrs. Jack Curran.

Members sang "Jingle Bells." Devotional was given by Mrs. P. D. Fidler. Yearbooks for 1965 were distributed and the year's program was previewed.

Gifts were exchanged by ten members and one visitor, Mrs. William Curran.

A health lesson will be given at the January meeting by Mrs. C. H. Williams, Jr.

NEW ORLEANS — There will be no white Christmas for the Clarence Jackson family this year. Jackson, his expectant wife, and their nine children were evicted from their rented house for non-payment of rent. Jackson has been unable to work since early November because of an injured hand. A social worker for St. Vincent De Paul Society is trying to arrange housing for the family. Of his children Jack said "We don't have anything to give them for Christmas, not even a house where they can be warm." (UPI Telephoto)

Sedalia PTA Council

Development of Character, Spiritual Guidance Probed

Sedalia PTA Council met Dec. 17 at First Baptist Church, with Mrs. Jake Summers, president, presiding.

The December meeting was led by the Sedalia Council, with aim for the month, "Instill Character Development" and "The Real Reason for Guiding Our Children Spiritually."

Devotional, "A Christmas Prayer" was read by Mrs. Grant Cox.

The Ice Breaker was led by the chairman of hospitality, Mrs. Harley Sanford.

Mrs. James Shull read minutes. Mrs. Grant Cox, treasurer, reported. Communications were read by Mrs. Schull.

Mrs. Claude Lambirth was elected chairman and is to appoint a committee to study and establish rules and limitations on money making projects for the future, standards to be for all schools, and to be included in the by-laws.

Mrs. George Chamberlain, scholarship committee chairman, was introduced and plans for the coming year were outlined. Mrs. Chamberlain reported on the prior scholarships awarded to various students.

Mrs. Guy M. Snyder, publicity chairman, announced the December radio program would be given by Jefferson School, the third Friday of December. Plans for combining Parent and Family Life meetings were read and discussed.

Mrs. Aubrey Moore, budget and finance chairman, reported on the Christmas napkin sale.

Roll call was taken by Mrs. Ernest Swearingen and rules in the attendance contest were explained.

Mrs. Jim McCall, publications chairman, called attention to the "PTA Publication Table" on display, and explained various PTA publications were available to coincide with the theme for each particular month.

Mrs. Guy M. Snyder, Horace Mann School, gave a brief report on the recent school board meeting attended by representatives of Horace Mann School.

Mrs. Sumners introduced Mrs. Ralph Dedrick who read third object of the PTA, "To Secure Adequate Laws for the Care and Protection of Children and Youth," and alcohol and its problems were discussed. A special committee was appointed with representatives of each school to look into the possibility of stronger legislation regarding buying and selling of alcohol.

Mrs. Leland Phillips, program chairman, introduced Mrs. J. R.

Wallace, who discussed "Guiding Our Children Spiritually." Mrs. Wallace complimented the PTA as a whole and individual members for wanting to make community conditions on a higher level.

She stated the three little words "I Love You" should be told children and this phrase should be felt and should be shown in the home daily by all members of the family. "The home is a place where we should be accepted as we really are," she said. "The parent's love should not fail the child when we have erred. Conversations in the home are important and a pleasing conversation during meal time when the family is together is a great assist and gives the child a feeling of belonging in the home."

"I am sorry" is another good phrase to use in the home, said the speaker, both by children and parents. It is good for children to know that parents make mistakes and to accept that we as parents do make mistakes but our standards are high and we acknowledge our mistakes and accept responsibility for them.

"No" is an important word for parents to use. Mrs. Wallace pointed out it is difficult to know when to say "No." "If goals are set early and firmly in the family, it is easier for parents to say 'No' and for their children to accept later."

Mrs. Wallace explained "in guiding our children, how wonderful it is to have teachers who have high ideals and set high standards." Another phrase to learn and to practice in the home is "I understand." Another is "You Must." "It is interesting" is a phrase that can inspire children to learn both sides of a question, it shows parents are interested, she said.

"Through wise supervision and close cooperation between parents and interested teachers, many attitudes are formed." Strong character is built into a child through good books.

Mrs. Wallace gave the opinion that "church should go hand in hand with the school and home in establishing the good in each child. Religion is important in our lives by a changing process in our changing life through the changes we make and things we do and say. The church has a responsibility through individual members to reach out and help the young people. It is important for the child to be able to deal with doubt. If the things we have taught them and the examples we set can stand questioning, their faith will be stronger."

Mrs. Jim McCall, assisted by Mrs. Leland Phillips at the piano, led the group in singing three Christmas carols.

Mark Twain School will be host at the January meeting. The topic will be "The Real Reason for Keeping Ourselves Informed to Protect Our Children's Health."

Holiday In Hospital For Duke, Duchess

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The Duke and Duchess of Windsor will spend Christmas in Methodist Hospital, where the duke underwent abdominal surgery last Wednesday.

This was disclosed Monday as hospital advisories reported the duke's recuperation continues without incident and his general condition is excellent. He remains on a liquid diet but has been strolling around the hall and has visited the duchess in her room.

The duchess said no interviews would be granted until after Christmas.

The former King Edward VIII of Great Britain was operated on for removal of an artery blister the size of a large grapefruit.

Jaycees Seek Outstanding Young Men

Members of the Sedalia Jaycees are still seeking nominations for their annual awards to the county's outstanding young farmer and outstanding young man.

Paul Shelton, assistant administrator of Bothwell Hospital, is chairman of the Jaycee committee gathering nominees. They have requested churches, businesses, civic clubs and other local organizations submit names for consideration.

Shelton emphasized as much information as possible is helpful in making nominations, however, the committee will follow-up and gather additional material regarding the nominees.

The Distinguished Service award goes to the young man who has contributed most to the community during the past year both through his work and civic accomplishments. Nominees for the young farmer award should also be active in community life as well as successful in agriculture. They need not be landowners. The candidates must be between the ages of 21 through 35.

Shelton said nominations may be entered by mailing the nominee's name and address to the Sedalia Jaycees, Box 11, Sedalia. Winners of the two local awards will be entered in state-

'Twas the Day Before...

"Buy early and avoid the Christmas rush!"

The shopping season is too far advanced for that slogan to have an appeal now, what with only one more day left to scramble for last minute purchases.

Self-satisfied persons who have their shopping done, their holiday cards mailed, decorations in place and Christmas tree trimmed, are breathing a sigh of relief. They were the ones who listened to the "buy early" appeal.

Nonetheless, Sedalia merchants and employees are bracing themselves for the inevitable shopping surge on the day before Christmas—Thursday. It comes every year. Now the stores are ready with more selectivity than one might believe. Somehow the day before the holiday seems to have a certain magnetism that stimulates enthusiasm among last minute shoppers—and they like it that way.

Shopping facilities in all business sections of Sedalia have shown a noticeable upgrading that has attracted more people than ever before, especially from the trade area fringes and way beyond.

Early development of automobile parking accommodations while other larger communities have lagged behind on this service has contributed to the attraction here of Central Missourians.

If this situation continues to exist in Sedalia it must be augmented by the prompt and gracious service of store personnel at all times whether during or after the holiday season. Nothing kills a town as quickly as inattentive or temperamental sales people, or grumpy managers.

Thursday will be a strain on all tempers, so try to keep them even on both sides of the counter.

By the way, an appropriate last minute chore the day before Christmas might include a voluntary contribution to the Sedalia-Pettis County United Fund. Just because you haven't been called on doesn't keep you from mailing in a substantial check. The Fund needs your support, desperately.

Thanks for giving—and a placid last minute splurge in Sedalia stores for all last minute shoppers.

Looking Backward

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Mrs. C. A. Wright, 1500 South Barrett avenue, was chosen to head the Girl Scout organization in Sedalia as commissioner, at a meeting of Osage Chapter. Other officers elected are: Deputy Commissioner, Mrs. W. F. Keyser; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Grace Young; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Lawrence Barnett; Treasurer, Mrs. Harry H. Harnsberger. Miss Marian Phipps is the council assistant. Mrs. Wright succeeds Mrs. Henry Menefee.

FORTY YEARS AGO

After a lifetime of 22 years of service as the pride and joy of the fire department, "Folk" collapsed in his harness while drawing a street repair wagon on Sneed avenue. Staunch legs which once bore him racing down Sedalia streets pulling a swaying fire wagon, gave way and he collapsed. However, "Folk" will live although the stroke cut his strength and pulling power.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Turkeys to Mississippi for Christmas

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — For some years I have taken the Harlem Globetrotters and various entertainers, thanks to the generosity of Abe Saperstein, to Greenland or Alaska or North Africa to entertain American troops who can't get home for Christmas.

But with improved transportation, a wealth of other entertainment and with Bob Hope doing such a good job, it has seemed to me have had equally pressing Christmas problems right here at home.

This year, therefore, I am helping send several thousand turkeys to white, Negroes, and Indians in Mississippi who otherwise would not have a Christmas dinner.

If there is one place where the love and understanding which Christ taught is needed, it's in a state where you can still murder Negroes with no danger of being convicted and where the terror tactics of the Ku Klux Klan can still dominate much of the land.

I am not unaware that most Mississippians resent outside help in trying to heal their wounds; all too evident in the vituperative letters I receive from Mississippians.

This was also made quite clear when the Salvation Army backed out of distributing turkeys in five Mississippi cities, despite plans approved by Maj. Fred J. Osborne, divisional secretary of the Salvation Army in Birmingham, who wrote on Dec. 11, "Thank you for thinking about us in this matter. May God bless you! Yours for others."

In five cities, however, Natchez, McComb, Vicksburg, Meridian, and Columbus, local leaders of the Salvation Army refused to distribute turkeys despite an order from the U. S. Commander of the Salvation Army, Holland French, in New York.

This caused some to remark that Christ's love stops at the border of Mississippi. Love In Mississippi

Last night, however, I got a phone call from W. G. Sims of the AFL-CIO labor union in Columbus, Miss.

"I understand that the Salvation Army has pulled out on you and won't distribute turkeys," said Mr. Sims.

I replied that unfortunately this was true. "Well, Marvin Taylor of Local 397 of the Carpenters Union and I will distribute turkeys and get 'em to all races," volunteered Mr. Sims.

"I've got an abdominal cavity full of this hate business," he continued. "We want to do something in the Christmas spirit, something for folks from whom you don't get anything in return."

Obviously Christ has not stopped at the border of Mississippi.

It was the hope of Dick Gregory and those who conceived the idea of sending turkeys to Mississippi that it would help bring cooperation between different faiths and dif-

The Three New R's

How do you prepare college students for jobs which do not yet exist?

You don't, a panel of educators has agreed.

Discussing educational problems peculiar to the fast-changing space age, Dr. Robert L. Clodius, vice president for academic affairs at the University of Wisconsin, spoke frankly and with common sense.

"You despair of teaching anyone just facts," he said, "because facts seem to change."

"About one-third of what we teach today is wrong. The trouble is, we don't know which third."

"You have to teach college students the new three R's of reason, realism and responsibility, and hope that they will have some enduring qualities which will last for the next 40 years."

It's comforting to know that educators are meeting the challenge of modern living with those same three R's—reason, realism and responsibility. That's a hard combination to beat, and it ought to get the job done for educators AND students.

ferent races. Most of the white Protestant churches have stood on the sidelines, but here are some of the churchmen who have not:

Father Nathaniel of the St. Francis Mission in Greenwood, various Catholic fathers of the St. Theresa Catholic Church in Gulfport, Father Kennedy, an Episcopalian, Abe Silver of Beth Israel Temple, and Abe Herman of B'nai B'rith, Rev. Argood, Baptist head of the Back Bay Mission, all of Gulfport; together with the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Gulfport.

In Hattiesburg turkeys are being distributed by Rabbi David Benami; Father Kersten of the Holy Rosary Church, with Rev. John Cameron, a Negro Baptist, and Rev. Robert Beach, white Presbyterian.

In Jackson, Father Bernard Law is distributing turkeys, together with Charles Evers of NAACP; in Meridian, Father Nathaniel is coming over from Greenwood to help; in Natchez, Father William Morrissey; in Philadelphia, Father Conisius Hayes, and Rev. Bender, a Mennonite; in Pascagoula, Father Raphael Maggiore; in Pas, Christian Father J. McCloone; and in Clarksdale, Dr. Aaron Henry, state president of NAACP.

Generosity for Mississippi
The turkeys have been contributed thanks to the generosity of many people; among the first, Sammy Davis, Jr., who immediately accepted the invitation of Dick Gregory to give a benefit performance in Chicago Sunday night.

Lou Stein of Food Fair, Emmanuel Cohen of Giant Food Stores, Andy Anderson of Safeway, Herbert Daith of Daith-Shopwell Chain, and Frank Gratano of the painting industry joint board of New York, followed.

Dave Dubinsky of the International Ladies Garment Workers, Dave McDonald of the United Steelworkers, Pat Gorman of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters, all contributed on behalf of their unions.

Perhaps the most timely help came from James B. Carey of the International Union of Electrical Workers who on behalf of Walter Reuther and the industrial union department of the AFL-CIO lent $18,000 plus a $2,000 gift when the turkey market was going up and we had to buy in a hurry.

"We appreciate being able to share with you your wonderful idea of providing some Christmas cheer to the fine people of Mississippi," wrote Carey. "As Christmas approaches we become more and more aware that the brotherhood of man as taught by Christ will shine forth long after bigotry and hatred wither and die."

So those people of Mississippi who haven't forgotten that Christ stood for love and sacrifice will have some help. And the Ku Klux Klan which believes in burning not only crosses but churches will have some competition.

As If Things Aren't Bad Enough!

The World Today

Vietnamese Fighting a Losing War

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American problem in Viet Nam becomes more obvious the worse the situation gets. It's more than just helping the people fight the Communists; it's trying to get them to be willing to fight.

The American-supported war, despite the billions of dollars in military and economic help poured in there, is going down hill while the Communists, united under a dedicated and single purpose, are getting stronger.

The South Vietnamese through their own dissensions — there are Buddhist, Catholic, military, political and student factions — are doing as much to lose the fight as anything the Communists can do to them.

Over the weekend came the sixth upheaval in government over the past 13 months, starting with the coup that ended the assassination of President Ngo Dinh Diem in November 1963.

This time a group of young army officers dissolved the legislature and arrested some of its members, thus establishing military instead of civilian control. Thus, while the factions struggle for control in Saigon, the Communists overrun the countryside and the American ambassador, Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, slides deeper into frustration. There's no end to this chaos in sight.

Taylor, in a private conversation with Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, commander in chief of the armed forces, warned that the United States didn't like the weekend development at all.

Khanh hit back with defiance to Washington — although without American help it's impossible to see how South Viet Nam can survive the Communist attack — by solidly backing the young generals' purge of the civilian government.

He warned against foreign intervention in Vietnamese affairs and indicated the purge would not be undone.

Washington faces this situation: If the United States should pull out of Viet Nam, almost certainly the country would be lost to communism. Eventually which is under the shadow of perhaps all Southeast Asia, which is under the shadow of Red China, would fall under Communist rule.

If the United States continues help — and American lives and wealth continue to be lost — and the endless coups go on, chaos and the loss of Viet Nam seems inevitable.

Tuesday night after what must have been a lot of sober thought the United States warned South Viet Nam's military leaders that continued U.S. support is based on existence of a Saigon government "free of improper interference."

This was in the traditional diplomatic language of vagueness. It could mean an ultimatum that there would be a cutoff in U.S. aid if the military does not leave the civilian government alone. But it didn't say so.

If the United States felt it had to pull out, and thereafter South Viet Nam was lost, American prestige around the world would suffer heavy damage.

The Vietnamese military mer, are probably banking on that: the idea that the United States, no matter how harsh it sounds, will be willing to endure repeated frustrations rather than admit defeat to the world by pulling out.

The gravest problem this country has had to face in trying to get the South Vietnamese and their government — until now any government — to fight off the Communist penetration from North Viet Nam was this simple fact that the people of the area have not truly been on their own — their own unaided masters — for 80 years. Not since the French in 1884 made what used to be called Indochina a protectorate, which is a euphemism for colony.

In short, they have had little experience in governing themselves.

DEAR POLLY — Is there anything that can be applied to crayon on color on cotton material so that it will NOT wash out or fade when laundered?

DEAR POLLY — A few drops of bleach that were carelessly dropped on a new dark cotton dress took nearly all the color out. Wax crayons, matching the color, were rubbed in well. The waxed spots were placed between layers of paper and pressed with a hot iron which fixed and blended the color. Now after several washings a nice dress is still in good shape. — LULU

CAPITOLDeath Row Is Home
For 4 Condemned Men

One of the thorniest problems that will confront the incoming governor is what to do with the growing problems of the state prison system. Compounding this dilemma was the recent suicide of Warden E. V. Nash of the Maximum Security Prison in Jefferson City.

One of the four condemned men now on death row has received a temporary stay of execution, less than three weeks before he was to die in the gas chamber. A second is set to be executed on January 22.

Thus, the 73rd General Assembly will be faced squarely with the problem of the death penalty which is often the butt of much sarcasm as to its effectiveness. Shortly before he ended his own life, Nash noted that he had reservations about its effectiveness on stemming the flow of crime.

Col. James D. Carter, director of the Department of Corrections, already has submitted his resignation and this will be a difficult spot for the new governor to fill, amid reports that present conditions at the men's prison in the capital have reached the stage where a new riot could break out.

A report by the interim committee on correctional institutions is harshly critical of the present prison set up in Missouri and urges an abandoning of the maximum security prison in Jefferson City.

The report cited a survey by a team from southern Illinois which blasted conditions at the capital facility. Tours through the prison openly reveal decaying buildings but officials quickly note that it takes money to modernize.

In any event, along with a host of other burdens, the problem of what to do about the state prison system is among those that will face Gov. Warren E. Hearnes and members of the legislature from the outset next month.

Supply Increasing

Money Flowing In and Out
At Faster Clip Than Before

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Money is flowing in and out of the nation's banks at a faster clip than a year ago — and probably through your fingers, too. This rapid turnover is one of the reasons the available money supply is still increasing.

This is helping make possible the stabilizing of long-term interest rates and holding short-term rates at a level designed to protect the dollar in international dealings.

This is the period of the year when the most strain is placed on the money supply, when it is most in demand, both as checks and as paper currency and coins. It is the season for high credit demands, too, as business finances its holiday trade. Apparently the money supply is still fairly easy.

After Christmas the money will flow back into the banks at a fast rate as business and consumer bills are paid. Money should ease still further. It should be a month or more before any further strain could develop. And this is all to the good as far as the monetary authorities are concerned, while they strive to hold long-term rates down and short-term rates fairly high.

The Federal Reserve Bank of

New York reports today that in November the demand deposit turnover, or checking account usage, in 337 U.S. localities outside the major money centers was 8½ per cent greater than a year ago.

The gain is impressive in terms of dollars changing hands. Check transactions in November were $15.4 billion higher in the 337 localities in November than a year ago.

The speed with which money changes hands is only one of the ways that the effective money supply has been increasing.

The Federal Reserve itself helps at this season of the year by seeing that the member banks have increased amounts of lendable funds for the financing of the business transactions that precede the holiday spending rush. The Fed can increase these reserves by buying up U.S. government securities. The cash it pays is deposited in the banks and becomes the basis for loans.

In January, the Fed normally dries up some of the surplus return flow of money to the banks as loans and bills are paid. It can do this by selling securities, and stashing away the cash it receives.

This year the process has extra interest because of the moves the United States has been taking to bolster the British pound and at the same time keep the dollar sound. One move was to raise the short-term interest rates here to keep dollars at home and out of European money centers.

At the same time, U.S. monetary authorities have succeeded in holding long-term rates steady, so as not to discourage further economic growth. It's a neat trick, and the increased turnover in checking accounts is helping.

Appalachia Fund Set Up By Network

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Television's warmest Christmas story this season comes from the viewers.

On Monday night, CBS News, in a half-hour program, showed what Christmas — and every other day — is like in the bleak Appalachia region, where people are desperately poor and many are almost without hope.

The response to the program was immediate. CBS affiliate stations all over the country were flooded with calls from sympathetic people who wanted to know what they could do to help and where they could send help.

Neither the network nor its affiliates are equipped to handle such a situation. CBS quickly made arrangements with the Salvation Army, through its national headquarters in New York City — 120 West 14th Street — to set up a special "Appalachia Fund." The Salvation Army will see that the contributions help to brighten the lives of those unfortunate families and their children.

Most interesting mystery of Tuesday night's network schedule was how on earth could Red Skelton in his tramp role of Freddie the Freeloader possibly insert the very elegant and galmorous Greer Garson into the show.

It was a cinch for both Red and Greer — and they manged to toss in a lot of other things as well: "The Hillcrest Drive Elementary School Choir" — the credits gave no further identification of the delightful children — singing Christmas songs; Miss Garson as an elderly Covent Garden flower girl; Miss Garson in gorgeous evening gown reading the "Dear Virginia" letter about Santa Claus, to mention only a few.

Skelton is a wonderful, ingratiating clown. He also is television's iron man and his average of good shows is amazingly high after 14 years of weekly shows.

Eating Match Decided By Puffy Pastry

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—The table was piled high with an oversized Nordic Christmas feast and a pair of 200-pounders sat down for a two-hour battle of the gluttons to determine the eating champion of Sweden.

On one side sat defending champ Sten-Ake Cederhoek, 52, weighing 233 pounds. On the other was challenger Ake Eriksson, 33 and 229½.

Before them was a huge smorgasbord: six varieties of fish, including raw halibut in mayonnaise; reindeer steak; pork back stuffed with plums; pressed calf's brain; ox tongue; varieties of pork, beef, chicken, turkey and duck, as well as sausage pies, salads, vegetables, sauces and assorted cheeses, fruits, nuts and raisins, coffee, beer and water.

In the end it was a dairy pastry that meant the difference between victory and defeat.

Challenger Eriksson started out heavy, stuffing down about a pound of meats and vegetables. The champ coasted with three-quarters of a pound.

In the second round Eriksson maintained his offensive but the champ met him in sharp infighting at the bread and beer counter. Eriksson kept the upper hand with a one-two combination of pig's knuckles.

Round three was wild. The herring dishes disappeared, followed by the spare ribs and reindeer steaks.

Both fighters shed their jackets for the fourth round.

As the bell went for round five, the challenger stayed in his corner complaining of stomach pains. Both fighters had passed the 8-pound mark.

But valiantly Eriksson hung on, weakly sipping coffee. The champion saw the opening and moved in for the final kill, ordering a pastry with jam with his coffee. The challenger crumpled.

The referee marked up another quarterounce for Cederhoek and declared him the winner. But Eriksson refused to give in and was allowed an extra round.

He lashed out with a stinging bottle of mineral water. The champ coolly came back with a glass of ice water, downing it superbly, while glassy-eyed Eriksson managed only a small sip in his last stand.

The referee gave champion Cederhoek the decision by a

Strong Gremlin Try Fails To Trim Bunceton Players

By PETE DANIELS
Coach Jim Gladbach's hopes that the Sacred Heart Gremlins will win ten games this season weren't advanced substantially Tuesday, but the indications are a little more in his favor.

Gladbach watched the Grem's go against one of the toughest teams in the Sedalia area at Bunceton in a non-conference encounter, and he also saw the Gremlins lose the game, 81-66.

Monsees Again Paces Bengals

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer

Lightly-regarded Missouri has the best won-lost percentage in Big Eight basketball and the major reason is Ned Monsees, a 6-foot-5, 220-pound refugee from the intramural ranks who suddenly has blossomed into a high scorer with 56 points the last two games.

Monsees pumped in 32 points as Missouri clipped Rice 82-71 at Houston, leading a Tuesday night three-game sweep by Big Eight teams. Nebraska beat California 63-59 at Lincoln and Iowa State stopped Marquette 73-64 at Ames.

Monsees scored 24, grabbed 15 rebounds and speared many loose balls in Missouri's 62-56 upset of highly-rated St. Louis Dec. 12 at Columbia. It was rated one of the best all-around performances ever in Brewer

9th Loss Recorded By Eagles

The Nelson Eagles lost their fifth LaSaline conference contest Tuesday night as they went down to Santa Fe in a one-sided contest that saw Santa Fe walk away with a 82-44 victory at Nelson.

The Eagles lost the contest in the first quarter, managing to hit the hoop for only seven tallies as Santa Fe rolled by with 21. Nelson got some of its saprk back in the second quarter, dropping in 14 tallies. But Santa Fe was well on its way to net its fifth consecutive loop win, and couldn't be stopped.

The Eagles, who now hold a 5-9 mark for the season, put on another drive in the third quarter that netted 15 tallies, but again Santa Fe came through with a score in the 20's that nullified the Eagles effort. Nelson folded almost completely in the final period.

Wayne Shannon, a 6-0 junior, whipped 19 tallies through the bucket for Nelson, but Santa Fe's Bristow took game scoring honors with 21, followed by Crowell's 18.

In girls' basketball action, Santa Fe again trounced Nelson, this time 45-28, with Hutcherson taking scoring honors over everybody for the entire evening with a whopping 28 points. Tops for Nelson was Sherry Jones with 18.

Nelson takes a breather now, lasting until Jan. 5, when they are scheduled to face the tough LaSalle Knights.

Score by quarters:
Santa Fe ... 21 22 21 18—82
Nelson ... 7 14 15 8—44
Individual scoring: Santa Fe—Schmidt, 14; Utlaw, 4; Crowell, 18; Klein, 4; Overacre, 13; Orear, 2; Baldwin, 4; Brunert, 2; Bristow, 21. Nelson—Wayne Shannon, 19; Jimmie Williams, 10; Robert Huston, 9; Dennis Moon, 4; Ken Huston, 2.

But a loss to the Dragons won't be considered a disgrace.

Bunceton, it must be admitted, lost two of their starters for the contest, but that did not affect the over-all score to any great extent. Jim Case, sidelined throughout most of the game because of the flu, saw action only in part of the third quarter. He scored two points.

Wayne Brandes, one of Bunceton's stalwarts, was sidelined a few seconds into the second period with a sprained ankle, but he still made his performance felt by whipping ten tallies through the hoop in the first stanza.

The Gremlins lagged in the opening stanza of play, 22-15, and saw their deficit increase until Bunceton held a 36-27 margin at the half.

But then the Grem's pulled their biggest surprise. Instead of faltering, as they have in most of their previous encounters, the locals put on a scoring drive that netted 17 tallies in the third period and 22 in the fourth. Their efforts to overcome Bunceton didn't provide the desired result, but Gladbach has the consolation that the team made the big try for that final score.

Said one observer at the game, "They looked better than I had expected. Their rebounding was good." It was praise that the Gremlins deserved.

Considering outstanding performances during the game, Bill Herring's name comes to prominence. Herring, cool in the first half of the game, found the range in the last and started to hit the bucket from almost anywhere on the field. He tallied a total of 24 points, while Bob Scherer, who experienced the same thing, dropped in 14.

Top gun for the Dragons were Eddie Bricker with 26, good for game scoring honors, and Bob Warmbrodt with 18.

In the "B" game, Bunceton whipped Sacred Heart 48-33 on the 14 points contributed by Buddy Miles. Top guns for Sacred Heart were Larry Burke and Ward Kniest with eight tallies each.

Both teams take time out now for the Christmas holidays. Bunceton next sees action against the Smithton Tigers.

Score by quarters:
Bunceton ... 22 14 12 22—81
Sacred Heart ... 15 12 17 22—66
Individual scoring: Bunceton—Bob Warmbrodt, 18; Wayne Brandes, 10; Jim Case, 2; Danny Draffen, 8; Wendell Brandes, 8; Eddie Bricker, 26; Bill Dicus, 9. Sacred Heart—Mike Maple, 17; Ron Kruse, 5; Jim Downs, 2; Rick Esser, 2; Bob Scherer, 14; Bill Herring, 24; Tony Brown, 2.

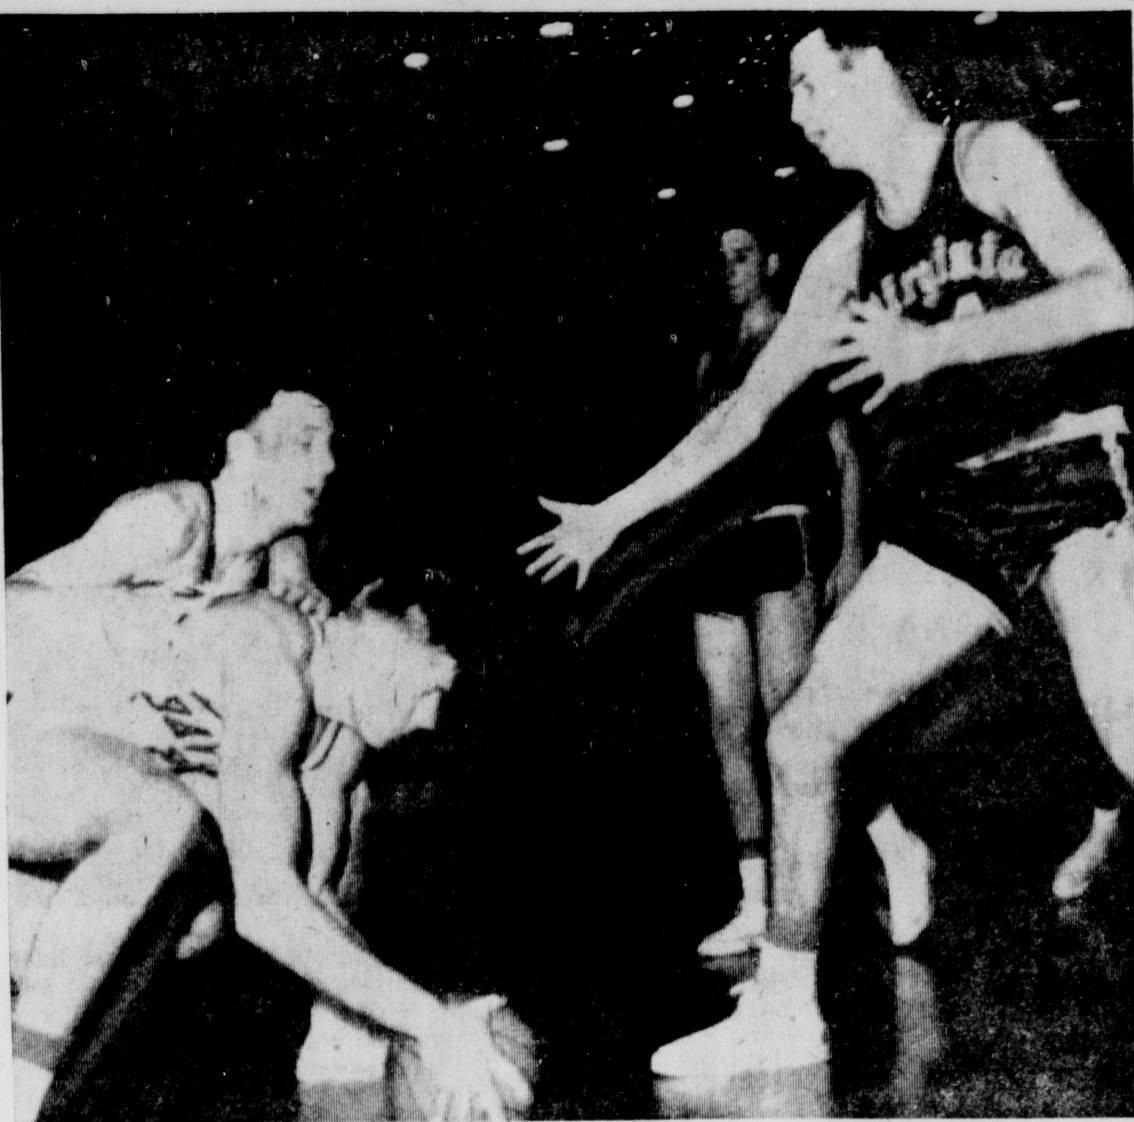

Regional Tourney Sites Announced

Regional basketball tournament sites have been announced by the Missouri State High School Activities Association, and 605 schools have been drawn into the playoffs this season.

The play-offs will once again be divided into three divisions, and all three groups will again play the first two rounds of the tournaments at out-state sites.

Class S will include schools under 161 enrollment, Class M involves schools with enrollment under 531 and Class L will include schools with 531 or over enrolled.

The Class S and Class M finals will be staged in Columbia's Brewer Fieldhouse on March 5-6 and the Class L finals will be held in St. Louis at the Kiel Auditorium on March 12-13.

Winning Skein Lifts UCLA Bruins

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The UCLA basketball Bruins are off on another winning streak and no one knows where this one will end.

Coach Johnny Wooden's boys were unbeaten in 30 games last year in their march to the national collegiate championship. They opened this season with a road defeat to Illinois, but since then have racked up six straight victories.

Their latest was a 84-75 conquest of Southern California at Los Angeles Tuesday night. And just as he did in previous triumphs over Indiana State, Arizona State, Oklahoma State, Marquette and Boston College, southpaw Gail Goodrich spearheaded the attack.

Overshadowed by All-America Walt Hazzard a year ago, Goodrich has taken the center of the stage with Hazzard's graduation. His brilliant passing and shooting doomed the Trojans. He finished with 28 points, including three straight field goals that broke open the game in the first half.

The victory of the fourth-ranked Bruins highlighted the pre-holiday national card. Third-ranked Minnesota whipped Chicago Loyola 89-75, ninth-ranked St. Louis downed Kentucky 80-75 and 10th-ranked Davidson beat Virginia 86-74 in other games involving teams in the Associated Press top ten.

Playing at home, Minnesota had an easy time winning its sixth straight against the Ramblers from Chicago. Mel Northway and Archie Clark each scored 19 points for the Gophers.

A jump shot by sophomore Bob Cole broke a 63-63 tie and put St. Louis ahead for good as the Billikens, enjoying the home court advantage, beat Kentucky for the fifth time in six years.

Fred Hetzel's 27 points led Davidson to its victory over Virginia at Charlotte. Don Davidson and Dick Snyder added 22 and 16, respectively.

Vanderbilt knocked Miami of Ohio from the unbeaten ranks with a come-from-behind 74-68 victory at Nashville. A 16-10 spurt, led by Roger Schurig's five field goals, erased an 41-point Miami lead. Over-all, 6-foot-9 Clyde Lee paced the Commodores with 25 points.

Brigham Young romped to an easy 112-71 triumph over touring Ohio State at Provo, Utah, paced by John Fairchild's 24 points.

Last Mat Card Will See Heavyweights In Action

The final wrestling program of 1964 is scheduled Tuesday night at Convention Hall with both heavyweights and girl grapplers on the year-ending show.

Topping the bill will be a pairing between stylish Ronnie Reed, unbeaten in this section, is pointing to a title showdown for the Central States crown and hopes to vault into contention with a decisive edge over the powerful Outlaw.

The popular mixed tag team event will be presented again, with 290-pound Moose Evans joining Jean Antoine to oppose Indian Joe and fiery Kay Noble.

In separate events, Evans will tackle Indian Joe, while Noble will go against Antoine.

The mixed clash promises promises some bruising action. Indian Joe has made his way to the top of the roughing list and poses a solid challenge to the young, strapping Evans. Big Moose, whose backbreaker is his most impressive weapon, figures to match his more experienced opponent blow for blow.

NY Knicks Have Simple Formula For Victories

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The New York Knickerbockers, whose victories come few and far between, have come up with a simple formula for success. All they have to do to win in the National Basketball Association is to hit on 50 per cent of their shots and display scoring balat.ce.

The Knicks parlayed those ingredients, offset the ominous presence of Wilt Chamberlain and went on to upend the San Francisco Warriors 124-118 in Sacramento, Calif., Tuesday night.

The game between the tailend teams of the Eastern and Western divisions was the only one scheduled. It drew a crowd of 2,654 at the Sacramento High School Pavilion.

New York, in gaining only its ninth triumph in 32 starts, connected on 56 of 110 field-goal attempts for a 50.9 per cent average. Seven Knicks hit double scoring figures, led by rookie Willis Reed's 25 points.

Tigers Defeated By Californians

The California Pintos, spearheaded by another outstanding performance from Jerry Wells, blanketed the Versailles Tigers 77-60 in a Tri-County Conference contest at Versailles Tuesday night.

The victory gave the Pintos their third straight win in the conference and their ninth consecutive win for the season. For Versailles the opposite was true since the loss was the first for the Tigers in conference play, and only their second for the season.

The aggressive Pintos opened the game with a 19-8 lead in the first half, and had to outlast a Tiger rally to maintain their edge at the half, 37-24.

The Tigers opened the second quarter with another scoring onslaught that matched the Pintos' efforts point for point, but the final quarter saw California move ahead by another four points to clinch the game.

Dean Akin, a 5-10 senior, paced the Tigers attack with 19 points, followed by Dale Tankersley with ten. Jerry Wells topped his brother by nine points when he whipped 25 tallies through the bucket for the Pintos. Ken Howard followed the Wells duo on the scoring column with 14 markers.

The California and Versailles "B" teams battled into an overtime with California coming out ahead, 48-33. Carpenter paced California with 14, while Eppenauer was high for Versailles with 10.

Both teams take a Christmas vacation, with the Tigers to host their own invitational tournament Jan. 4-8, while California is next scheduled to meet Stovells.

Billikens Oust Wildcats 80-75 In Valley Play

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ninth-ranked St. Louis finally whipped Kentucky's sagging zone defense and beat the Wildcats 80-75 Tuesday night at St. Louis, continuing its domination over Adolph Rupp's teams.

The Billikens, coached by John Benington, have beaten Kentucky five times in the past six years and six times in nine years. Most of the time, Kentucky was rated the favorite.

The victory made the Missouri Valley's record 35 won and 10 lost against outside teams this season, including 28-5 on Valley home courts. It was the only game played Tuesday.

Three games are on tonight's card, all on Valley home courts. Oregon State is at Cincinnati, South Dakota State at Drake and Bellarmine at Louisville.

St. Louis was never better than tied until sophomore Bob Cole's jump shot put the Bills ahead to stay, 65-63 with 7:25 left. A goal by Rich Parks made it 67-63 with 5:33 left and Kentucky then played catch-up. Cole led the Bills with 19 points and Parks had 15.

Pat Riley, Kentucky sophomore, led the scoring with 23. But Louie Dampier of the Wildcats, who went into the game with a 19-point average, scored only two points.

Greyhounds Dominate Cage Tilt

The Sweet Springs Greyhounds, sparked by Chuck Dierking's 18 points and 15 rebounds, trimmed the Pilot Grove Tigers 78-52 at Pilot Grove Tuesday night in a non-conference encounter.

The Greyhounds never left it in doubt as to who would dominate the scoreboard in the contest, jumping to a 22-19 first period lead which bloomed into a comfortable 36-24 margin by intermission.

Pilot Grove never did recover enough to pose a serious threat to the Greyhounds at any part of the game, even though a final effort in the fourth quarter netted 17 points.

Dierking, who spent most of his time under the boards for the Greyhounds, got an ample assist from Bob Brown, who scored 14, and Dewey Sims who rounded things out with 13 tallies.

Top guns for Pilot Grove were J. Wessing who dropped in 21 points, good for game scoring honors, and Dave Wendelton with 15.

The "B" game saw Sweet Springs again dominate the game, trouncing Pilot Grove 52-30 on the 14 points contributed by Wayne Meador. Tops for Pilot Grove's Tigers was Ken Meisenheimer with 16, good for game scoring title.

The Greyhounds next see action against Slater on Jan. 5 at Sweet Springs.

Another Coaching Casualty

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Phil Dickens, whose seven-year tenure at Indiana failed to lift the Hoosiers out of the Big Ten doldrums, has joined Wayne Hardin, Bill Barnes and John Stigman among the major coaching casualties of the 1964 college football season.

Dickens, who learned his football at Tennessee under the late Gen. Robert Neyland and took over at Indiana in 1958, resigned his $17,500-a-year post Tuesday and accepted a job as general manager of Hoosier off-campus activities.

His departure left four 1965 vacancies among major college teams. Navy, UCLA and Pennsylvania also are seeking new coaches. Hardin quit as the Middles' boss after failing to land an assistant athletic directorship at the Naval Academy. Barnes, anticipating the ax at UCLA, bowed out before the Bruins' athletic board could fire him. Stigman was sacked after a series of losing seasons at Penn.

The four schools have indicated there will be no hirings until the National Collegiate Athletic Association meets next month in Chicago.

More than a dozen other changes have been made since the end of the regular season. Hank Foldberg of Texas A&M and Doyt Perry of Bowling Green stopped out to devote full time as athletic directors. Gene Stallings, a Bear Bryant aide at Alabama last season, replaced Foldberg and Bob Gibson took over for Perry.

Vickie Is 6 Years Old

Draws Perfect Yule Tree Despite Fact She's Blind

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Christmas tree drawn by little Vickie Ailor was her first experiment with colored crayons, but the result was so good the tree was published as a Christmas card.

"How do you know what a Christmas tree looks like," asked Vickie's mother.

"I just know, that's all," was Vickie's somewhat impatient reply.

Vickie, six years old last week, has been blind more than half her life.

The tree, carefully drawn on paper placed over a raised wire screen, (so the children can feel the traces) was published as a Delta Gamma alumnae project fund on behalf of Vickie's school — the Pre-School for the Visually Handicapped.

Christmas In England Is Quieter

LONDON (AP) — Oliver Cromwell and his Puritans decided people were having too good a time. They actually banned Christmas in June 1647.

England's Christmas came back with Charles II, the merry monarch, but it was a quieter business — and still is.

Yet some Britons still go plain crazy over Christmas.

Every Christmas Day, ice permitting, swimmers plunge into the Serpentine Lake in London's Hyde Park for a 100-yard race.

The winner gets the Peter Pan Cup.

Down in Folkestone, another bunch of intrepid swimmers dive into the sea for a traditional Christmas dip.

Then, bristling with gooseimples, they dash up the beach for a jolly cup of hot punch around a bonfire.

The rest of Britain is mostly indoors, happily attacking mountains of food and oceans of grog.

Apart from the swimmers and a few carol singers, most Britons stay home for the two-day holiday.

High spot for Britons is lunchtime Christmas Day.

Traditional fare is turkey or chicken followed by Christmas pudding.

Whisky, sherry, beer and wine flow freely in many homes.

At tea-time, if they can still face it, most Britons munch heavy fruit cake.

For supper they try to polish off what's left of the turkey.

The day after Christmas — Boxing Day — is normally spent recovering. Shops still are closed, but it's a traditional day for football and other sports matches.

"Vickie is one of our star pupils," says Mrs. Gwen Speyer, director of the school. "She is very capable and very bright. She has almost a one-track mind and when she starts something she sticks with it and finishes it. She will do very well when she enters the first grade in public school next fall."

Vickie is one of three children of Mr. and Mrs. James Ailor of Odessa, Mo. Her eyes were removed because of malignant tumors. Her 16-month old brother, Rornie, lost an eye from the same condition at the age of 2½ months and gets regular checkups of a developing tumor in the other eye.

"It is called an infant's disease because 99 per cent of those who contract it do so before age 5," says Mrs. Ailor. "We feel grateful that our 7-year-old child, Carla, did not develop it."

Vickie, says her mother, is happier than most sighted children.

"She never complains, even when she's sick. She's always happy and smiling."

"Her birthday was on the 17th and now she is getting real anxious. She said she can hardly wait for Christmas."

Santa Claus came Tuesday to the school which has 44 children in nursery and kindergarten classes—17 of them with sight.

"He looked just like I thought," Vickie said. Her mother says she questions the existence of Santa Claus, however, asking how he can get to everybody's house in one night.

"She's the most self-reliant child I know," says her mother. "She's on the telephone a lot, talking with relatives and friends and always answers the phone for me. She washes dishes and helps me in the kitchen. She's very good at taking care of her brother."

Mrs. Ailor drives Vickie to school daily — a round trip of more than 40 miles.

Thursday night she'll get a Christmas present. Vickie made — a glass ash tray with colored scraps of paper pasted on the bottom.

"It's very pretty," Vickie said.

Uses Garden Hose To Put Out Blaze

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP)—Arriving home from work, Roy M. Prater saw smoke pouring from the home of Mrs. Ruth Clark two doors away.

Prater quickly connected two 50-foot lengths of garden hose, dashed into Mrs. Clark's kitchen and put out the blaze before firemen arrived yesterday.

"I didn't want the house to burn down," Prater said. "They have been my neighbors 11 years."

Christmas Is An Essential Splendor for Middle Aged

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK — Christmas, they say, is for the young. Why, bless our tired old way-faring heart and steaming bifocal glasses, that simply isn't so. Christmas is for the middle-aged. The whole holiday is made up for them.

The truth about Christmas is that children are too small to know its measure, old people are too tired, and that leaves the middle-aged to appreciate its true treasure.

It isn't the child who needs Santa Claus. Reality is fresh and new to him, and the world is a garden of delight. He requires no fable when fact is a sweet dewed meadow before him.

It is the middle-aged person, somewhat disillusioned by the ordinary, who has to believe in Santa Claus. It is for him Christmas is necessary, to rescue him from the daily rut and refurbish his faith in the extraordinary.

Childhood needs no such rescue. Middle age can hardly do without it.

I know many middle-aged people who all the year long wait with pathetic eagerness to shed the cloak of commonness, to drop their distrust of humanity, and wear in season the spirit of Jesus Christ as a robust robe.

In particular I recall a middle-aged friend, now not too many years dead, who made of Christmas a necessary event.

He himself went into the marketplace and picked out the family Christmas tree. It had to fill a need for spaciousness in his life. It had to be green and wide-armed and reach from the floor to a topping star that brushed the ceiling.

He liked an old fashioned Christmas tree with modern touches. To his wife he allowed the purchase of ripe cranberries and the popping of the corn. It she chose to help him laboriously thread the cranberries and the popcorn in red and white strands, that was up to her, too.

But when it came to decorating the tree he allowed no maternal or childish help. Alone, for hours, he wound the cranberry and popcorn ropes, adjusted the lights, covered every needle with gleaming tinsel, put bulbs and baubles here, wide-eyed angels there.

Osborne Released On $35,000 Bail

KANSAS CITY (AP) —Alfred H. Osborne Sr., former attorney convicted of directing a band of bank robbers, was released from federal custody Tuesday when he put up $35,000 bail pending an appeal.

After a federal court trial at St. Joseph, Mo., in February, Osborne was sentenced to 15 years for aiding in the robbery of a bank at Dearborn, Mo., and five years for conspiring to rob banks in California. He was sentenced in May.

Osborne surrendered his lawyer's license after he was sentenced to serve 10 months for contempt for coaching a witness to lie in a damage suit in 1951.
